Prostate Cancer 2026:

PRECISION, OUTCOMES, AND THE OLIGOMETASTATIC FRONTIER

March 14, 2026 • Historic Charleston, SC

Conference Description

Prostate Cancer: Precision, Outcomes, and the Oligometastatic Frontier is a one day, expert-led program designed to provide practical, evidence-based updates in the management of prostate cancer across the disease continuum. This interactive course highlights advances in risk stratification, imaging, surgery, radiation therapy, systemic treatment, and outcomes research that are reshaping personalized care.
Through focused lectures, keynote presentations, and multidisciplinary panel discussions, participants will explore contemporary strategies to optimize oncologic outcomes while preserving quality of life. Emphasis is placed on clinical decision making, treatment sequencing, and collaboration across specialities to deliver individualized, patient-centered care.

Credit Designation

Lecture: The Medical University of South Carolina designates this live activity for a maximum of 7.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Objectives

At the completition of this conference, participants should be able to:
1. Describe current approaches to prostate cancer screening and risk stratification, including the role of biomarkers and advanced imagine, to support informed clinical decision-making.
2. Assess surgical, radiation, and focal therapy options for localized and intermediate-risk prostate cancer based on patient and disease specific factors.
3. Evaluate the role of modern radiation techniques, including SBRT and hypofractionation, in the management of intermediate and high-risk prostate cancer.
4. Apply PSMA-based imaging to guide treatment selection in recurrent, salvage, and oligometastatic prostate cancer.
5. Compare systemic therapy strategies and sequencing for hormone sensitive and castration resistant prostate cancer.
6. Incorporate patient reported outcomes and outcomes research into multidisciplinary care planning to enhance quality of care and patient-centered outcomes.
