Statement of Purpose

The 32nd Annual Perinatal Conference will present a variety of topics impacting the daily practices of today’s OB and Neonatal nurse. The planning committee has selected topics based on suggestions from attendees at our previous conferences as well as topics that provide clinically current information on the nursing aspects of perinatal care. There is an increased awareness of the need for nursing education and empowering nurses to apply evidence based practice to improve perinatal outcomes and women’s health. This year’s presentations will address preventing primary cesarean sections, mother/infant safety, maternal obesity and neonatal complications, bereavement and fetal monitoring.

Target Audience

- OB/GYN Nurses
- NICU Nurses
- Community Health Nurses
- Advanced Practice Nurses

Objectives

- Discuss complications from cesarean birth compared to vaginal birth for mother and neonate.
- Understand the fundamentals of collaboration in a multi disciplinary perinatal safety program.
- Describe the impact of maternal obesity on neonatal complications and long-term follow-up.
- Articulate the significance of perinatal loss on parents and rationale for Family Centered Care.
- Comprehend the clinical significance of FHR patterns and changes during labor.

No commercial support was received for this educational activity.
