Symposium Description
This six hour continuing education activity will provide an interprofessional, timely update for clinicians to evaluate and develop treatment plans for patients living with mental illness.

Live Steam: If you cannot attend in person, you have the option to attend via live stream using a computer with high speed internet. You may ask questions, participate in surveys, and post comments from your computer during the program. Please note that credit is only provided to registered attendees participating at their own computer and phone. Instructions with a link to the program will be sent the day before.

Who Should Attend
The target audience includes pharmacists, physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, social workers and other healthcare professionals with an interest in mental illness.

Learning Objectives
Upon completion of this program the participant should be able to:

- Discuss the use of newer psychiatric medications, including indications, dosing, and adverse effects, including movement disorders, with patients and providers.

- Develop a treatment plan for patients who are candidates for newer psychiatric medications, including those who may need a long-acting injectable medication.

- Determine methods to overcome mental health treatment barriers from patient and provider perspectives.
