

EVMS Medicine

Invites you to a special Grand Rounds presentation

Harry H. Mansbach Endowed Lecture

*Provided by Eastern Virginia Medical School
Continuing Medical Education*

“Leadership in Healthcare Epidemiology,
Antimicrobial Stewardship, and Medicine: A Soccer
Enthusiast’s Perspective”

Gonzalo Martin Llorens Bearman, MD, MPH, FACP, FSHEA, FIDSA

Richard P. Wenzel Professor of Medicine (Tenured)
Virginia Commonwealth University
School of Medicine

February 14, 2024
12 - 1 p.m.

Margaret Moore Hall Auditorium
Waitzer Hall, Room 300, and Virtually through Zoom

Objective: Determine factors to minimize burnout. Define your purpose within the organization.

General Competency Addressed: Interpersonal and Communication Skills, Work in interdisciplinary teams

Target Audience: Physicians of all specialties, students, residents, fellows and all professionals wishing to expand their knowledge base about supporting care givers

While speaker will be presenting virtually, watch in person in Margaret Moore Hall Auditorium, Waitzer Hall, Room 300. Lunch will be provided.

RSVP to attend in person

ACCREDITATION

Eastern Virginia Medical School is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

CREDIT DESIGNATION

Eastern Virginia Medical School designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

DISCLOSURE

Gonzalo Bearman, MD and the planning committee members have no relevant financial relationships with ineligible companies to disclose.

The Mansbach Lecture is an annual tribute to Harry H. Mansbach (1911-2002), one of the visionaries responsible for the creation of Eastern Virginia Medical School. He helped lead the drive that raised money to open the school in 1973, and he continued to serve EVMS well into the 1990s. The lecture, started by his children in 1996, has allowed EVMS to host some of the nation’s leading physicians and researchers, presenting on a variety of topics to EVMS faculty, students, residents and staff.