PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
The 4th Annual Advances in Neurology is a full-day CME event that will provide clinicians with an update on diagnostic processes, cutting-edge technologies, and innovative management strategies in these areas of neurology: movement disorders, stroke, multiple sclerosis (pediatric and adult), autoimmune encephalitis, headache, epilepsy, and neuromuscular disorders (ALS). Through didactic lecture, case presentations, and interactive discussions with expert clinicians, attendees will be better enabled to diagnose and manage adults and children living with neurologic disorders in 2017 and beyond. Patient simulators will interact with faculty to provide an enhanced learning experience for participants.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES
At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Identify appropriate treatment approaches for acute ischemic stroke and recognize cases that are appropriate for referral to comprehensive stroke centers offering acute endovascular interventions.
- Utilize the updated criteria for diagnosing and categorizing multiple sclerosis and create an effective comprehensive and holistic management plan.
- Discuss motor and non-motor features of Parkinson’s disease and options for management.
- Describe results of conventional neurological assessments and testing that support the diagnosis of autoimmune encephalitis.
- Present the rationale for referral of ALS patients to a multi-disciplinary treatment center.
- List new medical and surgical options for the treatment of epilepsy, and describe the role of online patient-to-patient support.
- Discuss existing, new, and potential options for migraine prevention including devices, injectables, and oral medications.
- List the consensus criteria for childhood CNS demyelination that support optimal management and counseling.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?
This symposium is designed for the practicing adult and pediatric neurologist; other specialists in related fields (neurosurgery, psychiatry, rehabilitation medicine, internal medicine, geriatrics, pediatrics); residents and fellows; and other healthcare professionals involved in the care of patients with neurologic disorders (nurses, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, physical therapists, occupational therapists).

Accreditation
The Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation
The Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai designates this live activity for a maximum of 7.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Verification of Attendance
Verification of attendance will be provided to all professionals.

Special Needs
The Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai is in full compliance with provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and is accessible for individuals with special needs. If you would like to attend this conference and require any special needs or accommodations please contact the Page and William Black Post-Graduate School of Medicine at 212-731-7950.

Faculty Disclosure
It is the policy of Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai to ensure objectivity, balance, independence, transparency, and scientific rigor in all CME-sponsored educational activities. All faculty participating in the planning or implementation of a sponsored activity are expected to disclose to the audience any relevant financial relationships and to assist in resolving any conflict of interest that may arise from the relationship. Presenters must also make a meaningful disclosure to the audience of their discussions of unlabeled or unapproved drugs or devices. This information will be available as part of the course materials.
