Presented by
Upon completion of this educational activity, participants should be able to:

Something for the Pain: An Introduction to Palliative Medicine and Hospice
- Distinguish the difference between palliative medicine and hospice
- Discuss indications for palliative medicine consultation in both inpatient and outpatient settings
- Describe basic pain management through review of one patient case

Primary Palliative Care Versus Specialty Palliative Care – Hype or Help?
- Declare the intersection of primary palliative care and specialty palliative care
- Formulate treatment planning through interprofessional collaboration
- Discuss the imperative of continual goals of care discussions

Barriers to Palliative Care: An Interprofessional Approach to Identifying and Removing Barriers to Palliative Care
- Identify barriers that prevent patients from receiving palliative care
- Explore changes in current practice that would enhance patient, family and caregiver understanding of palliative care
- Improve patient care by implementing a team approach to palliative care education and palliative care delivery
- Discuss the ethical implications of using a team approach to palliative care delivery

Interprofessional Team Approach to Difficult Conversations
- Discuss considerations for when advancements in medical technology are no longer services provided to promote wellness and healing, challenging the ethical principle of beneficence
- Describe the benefits of an interprofessional approach to assisting patients with Advance Care Planning
- Recognize benefits of discussing disease trajectory and initiating “difficult discussions” early in the disease process
